

TRAVELING ROCKS

Here at the park and surrounding area, most of the rocks you find in the woods or on the beach have come here from the north, many from the mountains as far away as Canada!

These traveling rocks—some the size of cars—were brought here inside the massive glaciers that were here many, many thousands of years ago.

If you see rocks that look like these, you can be sure that they have travelled here in glaciers from the north.
